EARN YOUR DEGREE AND INCREASE YOUR VALUE

Now is the time to join this evolving section of the industry.

The demand for non-medical professionals in healthcare management and administration continues to grow to meet the changing and expanding needs of healthcare-related businesses, organizations and policies. With this increase in high compensation career opportunities, job prospects for candidates with the right education, practical experience and skill sets are bright.

GAIN THE SKILLS YOU NEED TO LEAD YOUR HEALTHCARE ORGANIZATION

Peirce has become a leader in non-clinical healthcare education in the Philadelphia region. We provide programs for students who want to be managers, supervisors, administrators, executives and independent contributors in this exciting sector.

Our Healthcare Administration (HCA) program provides a solid grounding in leadership concepts and skills, integrated with a comprehensive knowledge of healthcare practices, regulations, policies and procedures.

Learn practical solutions through hands-on experience

Peirce HCA students are prepared with the skills and knowledge to translate the theories and ethics of healthcare into solutions in the workplace. Students receive valuable co-op work experience and utilize business simulation software for practice managing the top three healthcare challenges: quality, access and cost.

Program faculty members combine real-world experience with academic excellence to ensure students develop the expertise and principles required for a successful career in healthcare administration.

Turn your education into real-world success

Graduates of the HCA program are prepared to pursue non-clinical opportunities in areas such as:

- Hospitals
- Specialty practices
- Managed care organizations
- Nursing homes
- Health systems
- Clinics
- Long-term care facilities
- Health insurance companies
- Non-profit service providers
- Community care facilities
- Laboratories
- Pharmaceutical companies
- Outpatient care and rehabilitation centers focused on healthcare issues and solutions
- Government agencies
- Ambulatory care centers
- Consulting, law and marketing/communications firms, focused on healthcare issues and solutions
Students who successfully complete the program will also be prepared to study at the graduate level.
